A dinner reservation I made for November 3. We can cancel, of course, if we change our mind. They are booked a month in advance and have great ratings.

Dietary information :
We offer an interesting range of vegetarian and vegan dishes.
Our kitchen is nut-free. All our dishes bar 2 are Gluten Free.
All our food is cooked using traditional Scottish cooking methods. This means meats are cooked in Whisky, Red Wine, Local Port Sherry and Craft beer. Some gravies also contain also contain wine & whisky for flavour. Alcohol burns off at 78c, so the alcohol is completely burnt off during cooking for everything. We cannot change this, as it is how we add flavour as spices are not typically used in Scottish Cooking. Our meat is provided by local farmers/butchers and customs. It is not halal; we have plenty of plant options.
